It's better to rent
a nice house than to buy a place you can't show off.

AGREE.

The ideal house can happen later when I have the money.

DISAGREE.

Rental is a waste of money - I should buy a house within my budget.

One should sacrifice other expenses just to live in the city.

AGREE.

The city centre might be expensive,
but it's the only place to be.

DISAGREE.

It's better to buy a house I can afford and still have money in my pocket.

You just received a 2-month bonus.
You should...

BUY A HOUSE.

...or use it to reduce
my house loan.

BUY A CAR.

...or upgrade my current car.

Would you hold off
the wedding to secure a house first?

YES.

I can't have a spouse and not have a house.

NO.

A house can be purchased together later.

Owning a house is a very outdated mentality imposed by parents.

OF COURSE NOT!

Buying a house is the most meaningful milestone in anyone's life.

SO TRUE.

It might be right decades ago,
but no longer relevant or realistic today.

One should never share to buy a place with their other half.

AGREE.

A house is an individual investment, and should not be shared.

DISAGREE.

Joint purchase makes buying a house more achievable.

A cramped apartment
in the city is better than a big house in the middle of nowhere.

OF COURSE.

The city centre might be expensive,
but it's the only place to be.

GET REAL.

Houses close to the city are cramped and unaffordable!

In this day and age,
you must buy or own more than one house.

TOTALLY!

I should have at least 2 houses :
one to live in, and another as investment.

WHAT???

These days, it's hard enough to buy a house to live in.

No one above 30
should live with their parents without paying rent.

ABSOLUTELY.

These days it takes a much longer time for anyone to afford to buy his or her own house.

IT'S RIDICULOUS.

30 is too old to still live with my parents, rent-free or not.

Parents who want their children to move out should help pay for their first house.

HATE IT, BUT YES.

Have you seen the cost of buying a house these days?

THIS IS PATHETIC!

My parents have already spent enough on me.
My house is MY responsibility

These days, parents should give their children a decent house rather than higher education.

IT'S NOT EASY, BUT YES.

It's easier to get an education loan than a home loan.

DON'T BE RIDICULOUS.

Education is still the most important investment for my children.

Freehold property is only worth buying if you plan to leave it to your children

ABSOLUTELY.

It's the best legacy for my children.

NO.

It's still worth buying because of its resale value.

Would you use your child's education fund to buy a bigger house?

YES, UNFORTUNATELY.

I should have at least 2 houses : one to live in, and another as investment.

DEFINITELY NOT!

If I don't have enough to upgrade, I should just live with what I have. Don't sacrifice my child's future for my own needs.

Would you remortgage your house to finance your spouse's business dream?

IT'S NOT IDEAL, BUT YES.

It's a worthwhile risk
for a dream we truly believe in.

DON'T EVEN THINK ABOUT IT!

We've worked too hard
for it to gamble it away.

If your child is above 25
and still stays with you,
he/she should pay
market rental rates.

GOOD IDEA.

I will earn extra money as I'll be retired by then.
And when he/she moves out, I can downgrade to a smaller house.

SERIOUSLY?

The reason they are still staying at home is because they can't afford rent in the first place.
