

Picking Camera for Travelling, Another Stressful Thing

Picture source: Google

When you're travelling to other place or even overseas, capturing moments could be the most important thing ever. How come you're visited the most beautiful place on earth and then be like "zzzt" gone. Of course, it always matter to bring a camera when people start a plan to travelling.

Then, what is people really consider when they are decide to plan a trip? What kind of camera they have to bring away when travelling? Sometimes, this camera stuff could be more confusing than "what do you prefer, train or bus to reach Liverpool?". It could be more confusing, when you hit the keyboard and search about camera types this day. It would show us many kind of camera with the brand new technology.

This few points, could be a consideration about what kind of camera you should bring with when travelling.

- Bag or suitcase

Picture source: Google

At the first time you're plan a trip, you must be decide what kind of "travelling" you want. Bag or suitcase. If you already decide about that, than you can consider about the space that could fit in your bag or suitcase. Action cam could be the most wise choice when you decide to traveling as a backpacker. At the other side, DSLR and mirrorless camera could be your first choice when you decide to travelling with suitcase.

In fact, that simple theory suddenly switch off lately. Most of people who travelling with suitcase are the typical of "glamour traveller". They prefer to use action cam to capture moments than the professional camera like DSLR or Mirrorless. This typical of traveller are looking for the user friendly to use, and easy to share the moment to the other. Or even, action came are make us possible to share the picture to social media with the easy way.

Beside the limited space they have to travelling, backpackers commonly bring the professional camera to capture the moments. There are several reason why backpackers consider to bring that kind of camera. Mostly, backpackers list down they itinerary at the spontaneous way. So, the destinations are more randomly and being mystery. Maybe, that could be the reason why backpackers prefer bring out the professional camera. They want to “eternize” the moment with maximum quality.

- City Tour or Adventure

Actually there are not just two type of destination when you're travelling. But, we could make it to two category, city tour and adventure. Action cam could be more effective to capture your moments when you travelling to the adventure destinations. Like mountain hiking, surfing, downhill, rafting, or other outdoor activity and makes you doesn't have enough space to aiming object with viewfinder.

City tour have their own charisma to attract traveller. Like, Tokyo. I bet, you would spend two or at least three day to discover that beautiful city. Or, Bangkok. The heavenly place for the shopaholic traveller. At least you could spend a week to discover every side of the town to reveal every hidden shopping place. Then, professional camera or could be your partner in city tour. Because, you have a “looseness” to see through the viewfinder and click the moment.

However, this term of destinations are not always strict for making consideration to picking up camera. We can use action cam when we are on city tour, or pick DSLR as a partner when we are on adventure. Beside all the action cam or professional camera, lately there a new mind blowing camera type. This one, could be your first choice to make the new experiences of capture moments. Ricoh Theta 360, Capture the entire 360° space with a single shot.

Use a PC or smartphone to have fun with the space! This is a new world that revolutionizes conventional photos and videos. Experience the excitement of capturing images that exceed the concept of "photographing."

- Your “Capability” to Capture Moments

Picture Source: Google

Capability means your skill to use the camera. The professional one, action camera, or the compact instant camera. Your capability to use and operate the camera is the more important and first consideration when you decide to bring out your camera. You never success to capture a moment with professional camera if you don't have a skill to operate the camera. You'll never make the picture focus if you don't have a capability to aiming through the viewfinder. Although, there always automatic mode in every camera. But you'll never get the best picture, or the kind of picture you really want. So, this last point is the most important and should be your first consideration to pick up your camera for your travelling partner.
